Imagination Takes Flight in Puppetry Performance for Preschoolers

U.S. Premiere March 10 – 26

New York, NY (January 31, 2017) -- Denmark's Teater Refleksion and Ireland's Branar Téatar bring to life the whimsical world of "The Way Back Home" by acclaimed artist, illustrator and writer Oliver Jeffers. An intimate puppetry performance full of physical humor and gentle, original music, The Way Back Home makes its U.S. Premiere with The New Victory Theater at The New 42nd Street Studios from March 10-26, 2017.

In The Way Back Home, a touching tale about friendship and the courage to conquer the unknown, a young boy discovers a single-propeller airplane in his bedroom and does what any adventurer would do: soars into outer space! When the plane begins to sputter and quake, our intrepid explorer must execute a daring landing on the moon. But never fear, he is not alone up there.... A study in simplicity, this wordless production for ages three to five reflects the "spare beauty" and "dreamlike quality" (The Independent) of Jeffers' work in picture books, which includes the "Huey" series, The Incredible Book Eating Boy, This Moose Belongs to Me, The Day the Crayons Quit and its sequel The Day the Crayons Came Home, and most recently, A Child of Books.

Published by HarperCollins UK, The Way Back Home was released in 2007 and received a Merit Award at the 2008 Bisto Book of the Year Awards. Teater Refleksion and Branar Téatar, in association with Barboró International Arts Festival for Children, adapted the book for the stage in 2014. Since then, the show has toured throughout Denmark and Northern Ireland, and France, Norway, Sweden and Japan.

No stranger to the New Vic, Teater Refleksion (Songs from Above, 2013 and 2007) is known for telling universal stories through puppetry and animation. Nominated for Best Children's Show at Denmark's Reumert Awards for Arthur and the Angel (1999) and The Prince and the Servant (2001), Teater Refleksion creates high-quality theatrical productions for audiences of all ages.

Based in Ireland, Branar Téatar, which aims to "tell big stories for little citizens," strives for a "simple yet elegant" form of theater for young audiences. The company creates works that require few means, yet stimulate and challenge the imagination.
